I can't say enough good things about Bonnie and the entire team at the Mauldin Group. When I approached Bonnie I had literally zero online presence. My business was reliant exclusively on networking groups and client referrals. I was positive in my false belief that these two advertising methods would be sufficient for me to grow my business. I couldn't have been more incorrect.

Even before becoming a client of the Mauldin Group, Bonnie provided me with valuable insight and advice. Relying on her background in print, video, public relations and online marketing she offered several simple changes to my marketing mix. Simply implementing these changes by themselves would have dramatically impacted my business for the better.

I was hooked. After a complete website redesign and a search engine optimization campaign my position in the organic, paid and local search results all rose to the first page of Google. When Bonnie says "to the top!" she really means it.

I am a very happy and satisfied customer. The Mauldin Group is not only the driving force behind my online presence but they have proven to be an amazing business partner as well. The team routinely goes above and beyond to ensure my business success. Anyone considering an online advertising campaign would be hard pressed to find a better business partner. Bonnie and her team provide service and expertise at a level that is far beyond her competition. My only regret was that I didn't hire the Mauldin Group earlier. I cannot recommend their services enough.

A big thank you goes out to Bonnie and her team. The work you have done for me has exceeded every one of my expectations.

Yours truly,
Raymond Berger M.S., CHt
